Sad Drowning

The hearts of the people of our village were shocked and grieved when on last Thursday the sad intelligence was received here of the tragic death of Julian Braxton Gills. He was one of a house party at Billsby, where his brotuer, James, who was married only the week before, had leased a cottage.

While diving, with others, from a barge on New river, he was drowned, in spite of heroic efforts to rescue him. Quitman Bolt, a youth of fifteen years, lost his life in a vain attempt to rescue him.

Julian had just passed his twentieth birthday and was a perfect specimen of young manhood. He graduated from Appomattox Agricultural High School in the class of 1918. Afterwards he attended Virginia Military Institute until he was forced to leave on account of his eyesight. It was on this account that he accepted the out-of-doors position with the Appalachian Power Company, which he held at the time of his death.

Julian was the son of Mr and Mrs. E. E. Gills who, with the following brothers and one sister—Robert, James, Teddie, and Louise Gills—survive to mourn his death.

His grave was beautified with many lovely flowers, tributes of love from many friends. His remains were shipped here for interment, where he was reared

The meeting will convene again at Central church for all day service on the 18th of Sept. You are invited to bring a lunch basket.

H. J. Wentworth Dead

Mr. H. J. Wentworth, who came to this county a few years ago from Brooklyn, N. Y., died at his home near here Saturday. His remains were prepared for burial and shipped to his old home in Brooklyn for interment today. The deceased had been in bad health for many years, and was about 50 years of age. He had made many friends here by his upright life and there is general regret at his death.

The Country That God Forgot

This remarkable picture will be presented at Appomattox, Va., Saturday, September 4, 1920, 7:30 p m and 10 p. m. The biggest and best picture of the year. A great story of the Western frontier and Man's Love for Woman. 2 reel comedy also, which is said to be the best. Don't fail to come.

Messrs. J. L. O'Brien and S. B. Betts have returned from Southern Georgia tobacco markets. Mr. Betts will again manage the Appomattox Tobacco Warehouse this season

Our readers miss the bright and breezy news letters of our Hixburg correspondent. We hope he will soon see fit to "take his pen in hand" and resume his duties as a correspondent of the county paper.

Appomattox is in danger of losing her popular blacksmith and wheelwright, D. R. Puckett, as he says he cannot find a location here for his business; the present owner of the lot where he is now located is going to fence in the property

The continued rains have greatly interfered with work on the new Appomattox tobacco factory, though Contractors Brown & Smith have made remarkable progress with the work, considering the adverse circumstances.

Twenty four cases were before Justice T. W. Moses on Saturday for not having their dog license on or before July 1. All carried fines and cost of $10.25. C A. Hancock appealed his case to the circuit court. The officers are enforcing the law as directed by the attorney-general.

Sugar is retailing at 15 cents pound in the city of Washington, and the decline is general throughout the United States. Jobbers who hogged the market and bought heavily some months ago are forced to sell at a loss, and rightly, since it was bought with the intention of fleecing the public on the then rising market. Ten-cent sugar is predicted before the end of the year.

Twenty of our citizens became guarantors for a grand Chautauqua for Appomattox this fall. There will be six entertainments and season tickets are now being sold for $1 50 for adults and $1.00 for children. This is the very highest class of entertainment that could come to any town and we congratulate the people of Appomattox in having twenty citizens who are willing to provide such a program.

Mrs. R C. Mann has returned from a stay of some weeks in Lynchburg hospital She hopes that her health is improved

Messrs. Charlie Mann, of Petersburg, and Harry Traylor, of Newport News, are visitors at the home of Hon. S. L. Ferguson.

Mrs. S. L. Ferguson has returned from Petersburg, where she attended the funeral of her cousin, Mr. H. V. Parham He was prominent in Masonic and other orders and was a widely known citizen.

Jesse Davidson, the 10-year-old son of M. E. Davidson, died here Sunday of fever. His remains were interred at the home of Mrs. Henrietta Williams. The child had been sick about three weeks.

The school here will open on the 13th of September, which is Monday. Get in harness, kid, Professor Crawley is looking for you. The other schools of the county will open in October and will run for seven months if funds hold out.

Much tobacco is being cut, and the sale of primings so far is very discouraging to the farmers. Farmers will not produce tobacco at a price below the cost of production.

Mrs. S L. Ferguson is the first lady in Appomattox to qualify to vote. Call on E. R Abbitt, commissioner, and he will assess you, but you had better pay the $1.50 capitation tax in person to the treasurer

Lynching negroes seems now to be a popular pastime in all parts of the country. Two have met their fate at the hands of Judge Lynch in North Carolina within the past few weeks—for the usual crime, the victim of one of the brutes being a six year old girl.

TOO MANY HUMAN "ISLANDS"

Lack Power of Expression to Communicate Thoughts So That Others Can Understand.

You are a human island, if you cannot express your thoughts so others can understand them, says Ruth Jocelyn Wattles of the Colorado agricultural college. If your mood is one of appreciation of grandeur and beauty, and you say, "Gee, ain't it gorgeous?" If in gazing at the Grand canon, you say, "Ain't it cute?" you are not in communication with your fellows; you are an island, a man entirely surrounded by men, but not in connection with them.

If in speaking to a group of soldiers you discuss, "that combination of proteins, albumens and other food substances which scientists have determined is the most conducive to health and vigor," your connection is poor. Say "chow" or "mess" if your aim is to be understood.

If you have no adjective but "awful" to apply to a dinner, a mountain, a hat, an accident, the new styles, the European war, your wires are down. You cannot express thoughts on all these subjects to your fellow humans by use of the one word "awful." If it is your only adjective, keep quiet; your silence may indicate an appreciation which your one adjective fails to express.

Are your wires down? Are you an island?

Will Not Let Women Pay.

K. U. men are hopelessly old-fashioned. The 50-50 idea, that is, that a girl pay for half the treats, which was started recently in an eastern university, did not appeal to them when it was discussed the other day.

A woman may work and by her efficiency earn as much as a man, but if she pay for one-half the treats she takes away the divine right of man, opinion had it.

Pride was not the only thing that influenced them. A man must shoulder responsibility through life so it is well for him to start early. The idea of protection of women extends even to paying for the sundaes she consumes.

It was the general opinion that if girls would realize that the resources of most men are not unlimited, there would not be any occasion for thinking about this matter.—Summer Session Kansan.

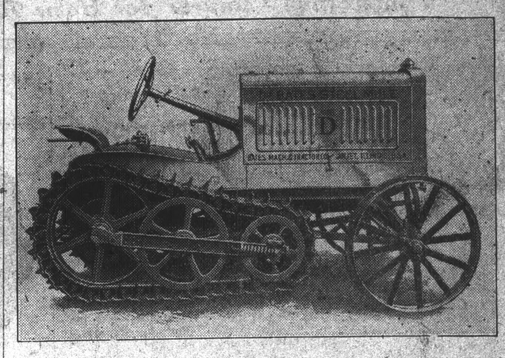
Every Inch of the Bates Steel Mule is Thoroughbred



The United States government by means of the Department of Agriculture, has been looking into the tractor question, and its bulletins clearly proves that the satisfied tractor owner—men who say that the tractor has paid—are men who own the BETTER CLASS of tractors. The successful man has learned years ago that he can't get something for nothing. No one can. The reason the BATES STEEL MULE costs more is that it is worth more. Skilled factory procedure, quantity production and the most modern Machinery enables us to save money at every turn, yet the BATES STEEL MULE cost slightly more in the beginning to build but considerably less in the long run to own. It's just another case where a seemingly higher priced article is ar cheapest to own when you come to actually USE it.

The Bates thoroughbred quality comes not from mere claims, but from what's put into it. Every part that goes to make up the BATES STEEL Mule is put there by long field experience. There is'nt a part that is'nt time-tried and tested. There is'nt a part that experience has'nt dictated the shape and size of; and in it all there is'nt one superfluous part, nor one part that isn't capable of standing up under twice the strain it gets in actual use. These are things experience and practice have distracted. The BATES comes to you as a fulfillment of your desire for a tractor that will endure. Price is what we pay for a thing. Value is what we get out of it. Consider your tractor from what you will get out of it, consider how many working days you have when the ground is wet, consider the operations where you can not afford to pack your seed bed, and consider how constantly and economically they must be performed even in rush times, you will then see why the BATES STEEL MULE is the biggest value offerd in any tractor on the American market today.

We want this Bank to be different—

To breathe a different spirit, to reflect a different attitude than is said to prevail in some financial institutions.

We desire that this shall be a bank of willing, cheerful service—broad in its views, generous in its sympathies, helpful in its strength—conservative only when conservation is necesssry to maintain that strength.

We want the conscientious interest that we hold for the welfare of our customers to be the magnet which will attract and hold the patronage of a discriminating and appreciative public.

We desire that this spirit shall prevail in every department and be reflected in the helpful attitude of every employee.

This has been our endeavor in the past. It will continue to be our aim and purpose in the future.
